

Sacco and Vanzetti Bibliography

Compiled by Jerry Kaplan for the Sacco and Vanzetti Commemoration Society

April 2008

Last update: April 28, 2008

The primary sources for this bibliography have been the WorldCat database, Anne Folger Decker's extensive bibliography, and the Anarchist Archives Project collection. Other sources have included bibliographies from a number of books and searches on the internet. Source(s) for entries are available upon request.

As a general rule, I have included only the earliest edition of an item in the original language and country in which it was published, as well as the earliest translation in each country in which it was published. If an item was published in the same language in two different countries, e.g., the U.S. and England or Spain and Argentina, I have included both. Where it was not clear where an item first appeared, e.g., an article appearing in two monthly magazines in the same month, I have included both. Reprints have been included only if new material has been added.

This bibliography differs in form from most in that when two or more works by the same author are listed, I have included the author's name for each rather than only the first. I have done this for the benefit of those who wish to copy individual entries or those who prefer to download the entire bibliography into their own database.

I have corrected errors found in the works of others and undoubtedly introduced a few. I apologize for errors in the capitalization of foreign language titles.

This bibliography will be updated regularly. I encourage submissions, corrections, comments and suggestions. Emails can be sent to me c/o saccoandvanzetti.org.
